About WATLO

We Are The Lucky Ones is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization. Our mission is to document and enhance the fan experience at live music events. We fulfill the mission three main ways: 1. Writing show recaps, 2. Interviewing fans at concerts, 3. Hosting a video podcast to capture fans' stories. What started off as a silly idea is growing into a huge passion project, an endeavor to create a time capsule. Truly, we are SO lucky to be alive in 2025-26, to travel the globe to see our favorite music with our favorite people. Our goal is that people decades from now can relive the magic of live music by utilizing the content we are creating. Find us online via our website, Instagram, or our YouTube channel.

About This Report

This “project” originally started to serve the Widespread Panic community, our fellow Spreadheads. We wanted to bring the NERD to the coolest fanbase in the country. This report is a deep dive into the song statistics of 2025. None of this would be possible without the countless hours of amazing work done by Everyday Companion. WATLO couldn't do what we do without them, we are eternally grateful!

Looking towards the future, a huge initiative in 2026 is to expand into other fanbases, while always keeping close to the pulse of Widespread Panic and their amazing fans.

2025 Songs

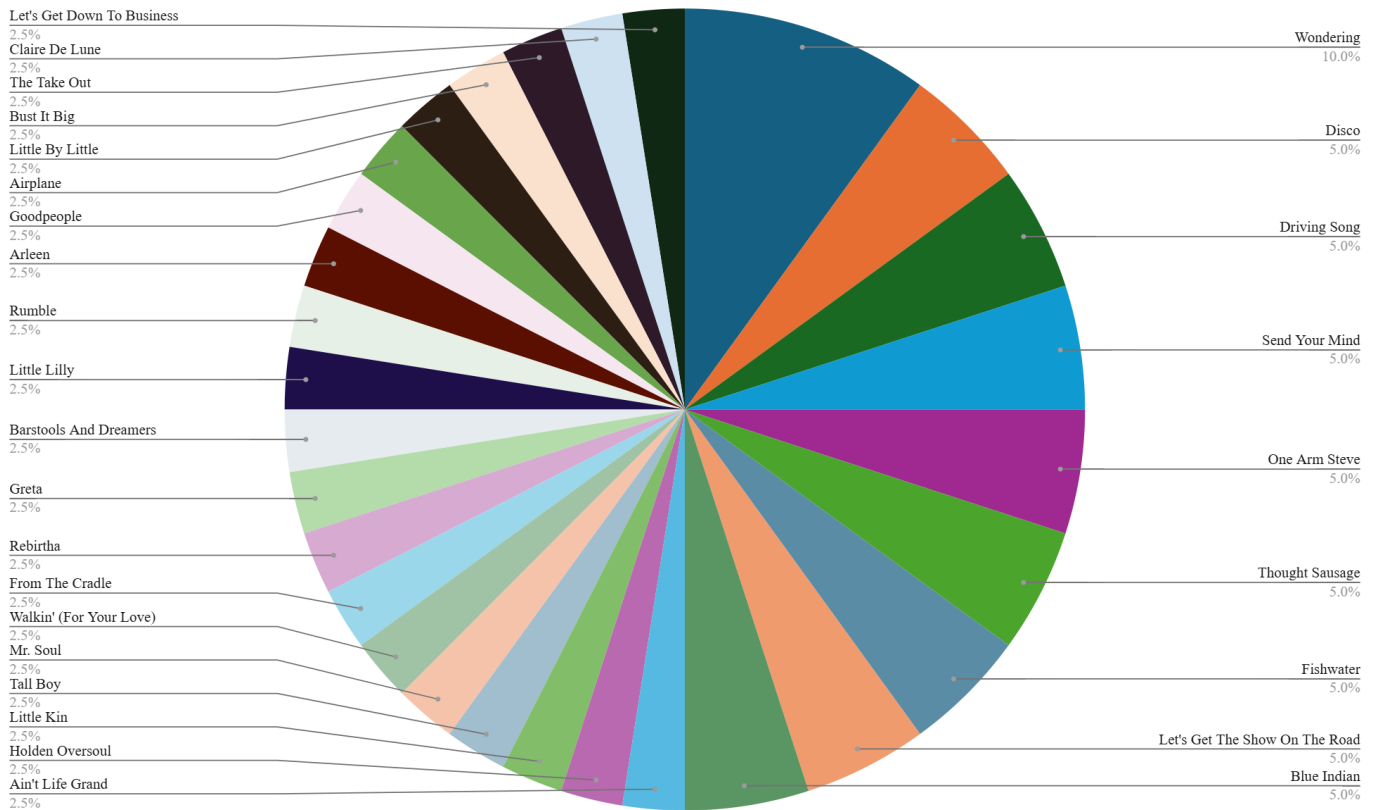

In 2025, Widespread Panic performed 831 total songs (not counting drums) in 15 cities across 13 states (GA and TN twice). Of these 831 songs, there were 204 unique songs. As any experienced bingo player would surmise, Little by Little led the way at 15 times, once in every city, and the only song played every single run. King Baby came in a close second at 13 times, every run except Indy and Port Chester. Fifty-one songs were performed only once.

Blue dots represent locations that Little by Little was played (AKA every tour stop)

Henry Parsons Died

Your WATLO HQ team has enjoyed keeping track of which day of the week John Bell says “6 o’clock on Saturday” during Henry Parsons Died. Since writing nerdy Widespread Panic show recaps, beginning with the Red Rocks run, they have been oddly consistent... up until the New Years run, it was played ONLY on a Friday night, and almost always around 8-8:30 pm

Perhaps 2026 will bring the highly coveted Saturday night Henry Parsons Died, maybe even at 6 pm!

A beloved Bloodkin cover, first played on 10/25/92, this song has been played 712 total times. Since it's debut, the longest show gap has been 13. After thirteen entire shows without HPD, it was finally played on 3/11/2014. Truly, one of the more common songs to see, thank JBesus!

Henry Parsons was played the following 8 shows in 2025 (53.3% of all runs):

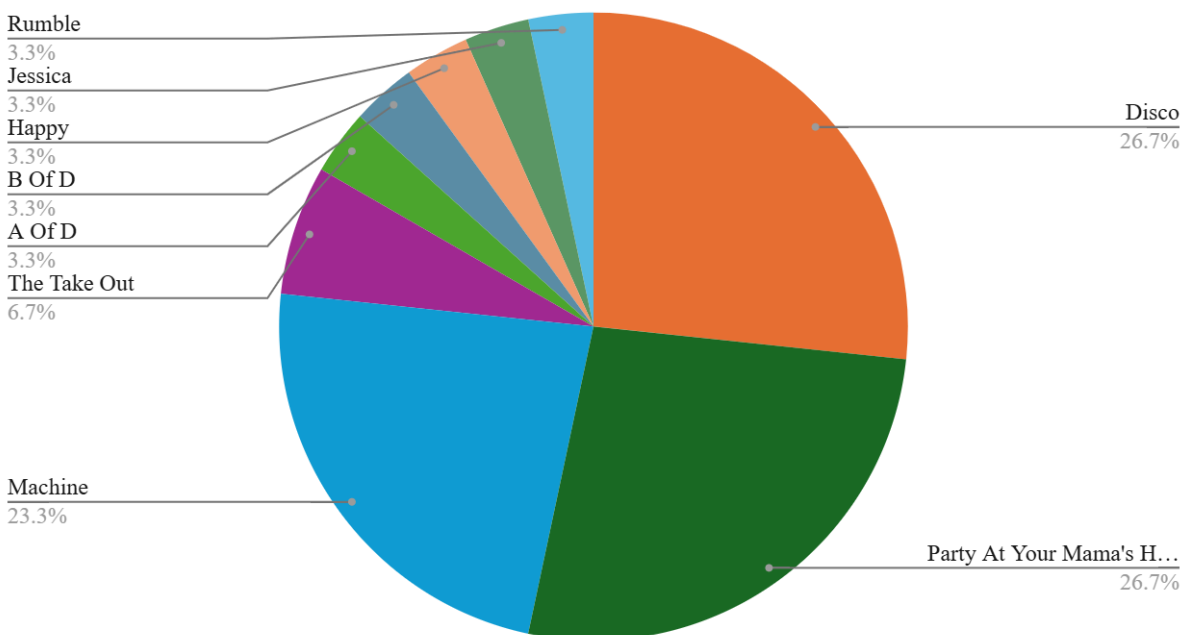

03/21/25
05/16/25
06/27/25
07/25/25

Instrumentals

One of your WATLO HQ team members LOVES instrumentals, and has a firm belief that the more instrumentals played, the more epic the show / run. Therefore, she tracks instrumentals with a diligent ferocity, known to no other. Unfortunately, several original and cover instrumentals were left off completely in 2025, and six were only played 1-2 times. Luckily, the founding members of We Are The Lucky Ones witnessed the ONLY time A of D, B of D, and Happy were played, during the Riverside Run in Milwaukee, WI. What a treat!

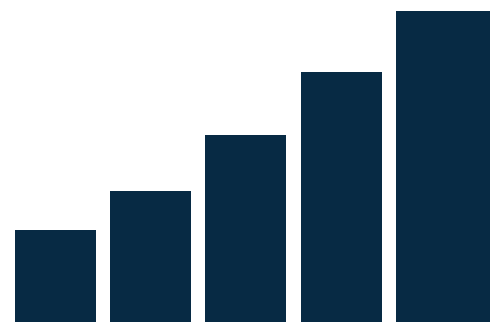

2025 Instrumentals

Disco and Party at Your Mama's House led the instrumental charge, and were played 8 times each (53.3% of all runs). Machine was close behind, with 7 total appearances this year. The Take Out was only played twice (2/16 & 10/25), despite Porch Song being played 11 times. Five instrumentals were only played once, including two cover instrumentals:

- Jessica - 6/28/25 - third time ever played
- Rumble - 7/25/25 - twelfth time ever played

And, as mentioned above, Happy, B of D, and A of D were all played during the Riverside Run (10/24-10/26), one per night in that order, each in the first set.

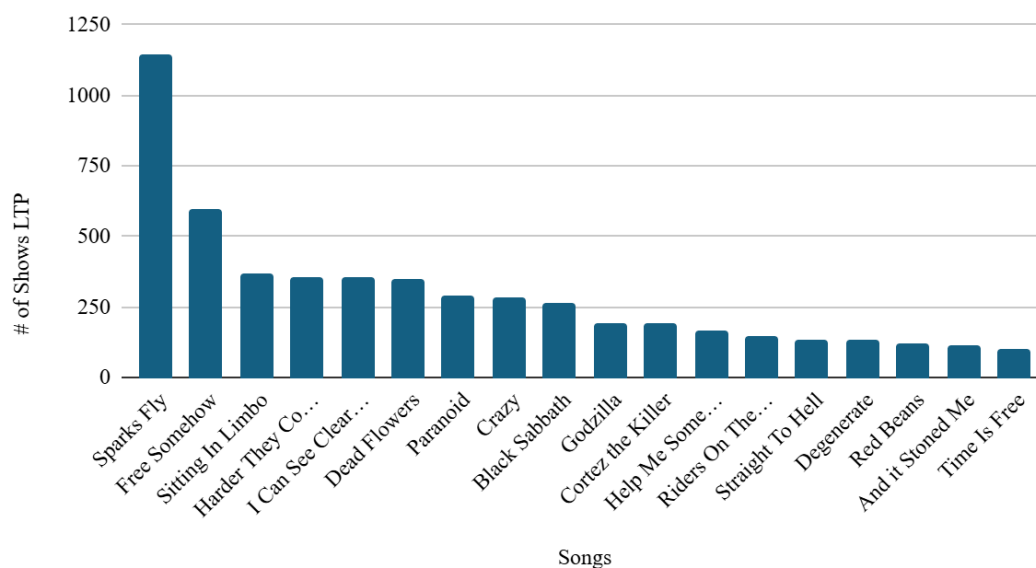

Biggest Bust Outs (Bust it Big Out?)

It turns out that defining what makes a song played a “bust out” is controversial and divides households more easily than we realized. Is a First Time Played (FTP) a bust out? Should this category really be called “Taken Off the Shelf”?

Here at WATLO HQ, we agreed with all of our nerdy unpaid interns that a song played for the first time in 100 or more shows can be considered a “bust out.” If you vehemently disagree, please join our intern army and provide your thoughts, beliefs, and opinions. We are open to change. For this year’s Annual Report, we are considering the following 18 songs our “Biggest Bust Outs in 2025” since they all had at least a 100-show LTP gap.

Biggest Bust Outs In 2025

Here are all 18 songs plotted in a bar chart showing the number of shows since it was last played. Clearly, Sparks Fly blows all the other “bust outs” away, with a LTP gap of nearly double that of the next largest bust out, Free Somehow. Sparks Fly was officially released on the beloved studio album, Ball (2003). It debuted on 5/10/03 and has only been played six total times. It opened the second set in Charleston on 5/16/25.

2025 FTP

First Time Played songs are ALWAYS a gift. We even hosted a podcast centered around this very topic! In 2025, Spreadheads were treated to ten first time played songs. As expected, most of them were debuted on Halloween (10/31/25). Two FTP songs were repeated a second time this year, War Pigs (played on 7/26/25 and again on 12/31/25) and Down in a Hole (played on 10/31/25 and again on 12/31/25). Only time will tell if more songs will get a second, third, fourth, or even 1,000th time played, or if they will remain in the OTP (Only Time Played) category.

Here are the ten FTP songs of 2025 along with their debut date:

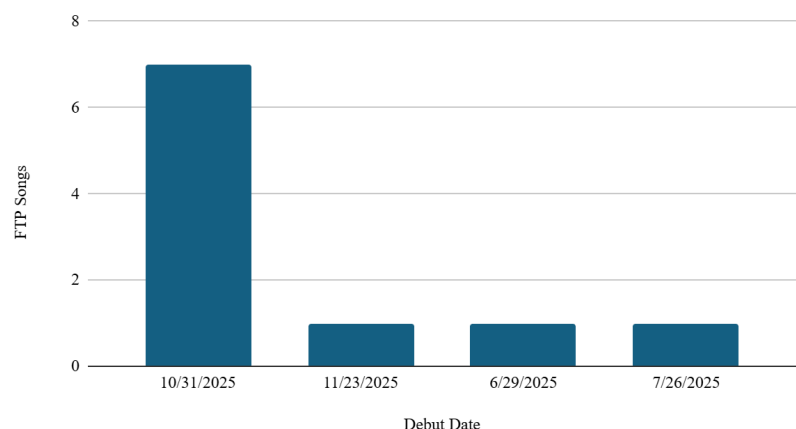

Black Hole Sun: 10/31/2025
Claire De Lune*: 10/31/2025

White Rabbit: 10/31/2025
Who Are You: 10/31/2025
